Hanni Stoklosa is an Emergency Physician at Brigham and Women's Hospital, Instructor at Harvard Medical School, and a Fellow in Global Women's Health and Human Trafficking and Forced Labor at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health Center for Health and Human Rights. Her work seeks to advance research and policy on the health needs of human trafficking victims, both globally and locally. She is co-founder of HEAL (Health, Education, Advocacy, Linkages) Trafficking (HEALtrafficking.org), an international network of professionals combating human trafficking from a public health perspective. She has worked in a diversity of settings including South Sudan, Liberia, Egypt, China, Taiwan, Kazakhstan, Australia, India, Nepal, Thailand, the Philippines, and Guatemala.